

Sculptural French Lounge Chairs in Elm

ca. 1960, France

details

This pair of sculptural armchairs comes from a private collection of modern wooden designs in France. The collection includes virtually the complete range of French designers, such as Pierre Chapo, Charlotte Perriand, Georges Candilis and others....

Both chairs have been in the collectors possession for circa 20 years, he himself once bought them in Paris. In all these years, neither he nor renowned French galleries have been able to match this design or anything similar. It is therefore likely that they are unique pieces.

The armrests are made of solid wood, probably elm, and are a construct...
